DPS Essentials - 1 day

Introduction course

If you have Adobe InDesign CS5, 5.5 or 6 then you have the abiity to generate rich and interactive digital magazines for the iPad + Android + devices. Using the Adobe Digital Publishing Suite (DPS), you can design and deploy engaging experiences across different tablet devices. DPS supports creation, preview and sharing of digital magazines like WIRED, The New Yorker and more on the iPad through an Adobe-branded viewer. This course is hands-on and within the hour, you will be tapping, swiping and pinching content on the iPad - generated directly from InDesign!

Subscribers to the Creative Cloud have free DPS Single Edition as a membership perk >>>

DPS Essentials - 1 day

Introduction course

Overview

This course is guaranteed to be delivered by an Adobe Certified Instructor from Certitec - our pledge of excellence
Create amazing interactive content from InDesign via the Overlay Creator and Folio Builder tool for deployment with other users or the Adobe Digital Publishing Suite (DPS). This course covers the framwork of how DPS works, creating interactive overlays and discussing workflow. Alternatively, generate content for delivery locally onto an iPad (iOS) and similar Android (tablet) devices.

This condensed course covers a vast majority of the Digital Publishing Suite but does not cover submission to the Apple Apps store or fulfilment. If you require the entire workflow from start-to-end then we recommend the Adobe DPS Full Solution course.

Who is this course for?

Those wanting to add rich interactive features to their content for conversion through the Adobe DPS system for global distribution onto the iPad (iOS) and other tablet devices (Android). Alternatively, those wanting to create visuals/presentations into the Adobe Content Viewer integrated with the free Adobe cloud onto iPad and Android tablets.

Whilst we will have iPad devices available, we encourage delegates to bring along their iPad and/or Android devices to the training to test their output.

Assumed knowledge

An existing understanding of Adobe InDesign is required or you will have already attended our InDesign 2-day Introduction course as a minimum.
